Official Reports—Telegraph from Minister Hale—Opinion of Attorney General Evarts—Supervisors Confirmed and Rejected—Rear Admiral Radford—Probable Appointment—Defence of Minister Washburne—Supervisor of Indiana.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18, 1868.

The report of the Land Office shows that the sales of lands for the past year did not pay the expenses of the Bureau.

The report of the Postmaster General shows a deficit for his department during the past year of three millions of dollars, three-fourths of which is placed to the door of the Southern and far Western States and Territeries.

General Sheridan's report will cover operations in the Indian country up to July only.

The State Department has received only partial official information on the subject of the trouble between Minister Washburne and the Paraguayan Government previous to his departure from that country. No intelligence has come to hand which would subject him to censure. On the contrary, the Standard, the leading English paper of Buenos Ayres, warmly defends his conduct as governed by the highest consideration of courage and humanity.

Minister Hale telegraphs from Madrid that he fears hloodshed in case a republic is established in Spain. France, Austria, Italy, Rome and Portugal will all combine to prevent such an event.

Secretary McCulloch has confirmed as Supervisor, J. R. West, for Louisiana; John Olney, for Illinois; W. F. Bennett, for North and South Carolina; Alex. Fulton, for Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia; Charles Hudson, for Massachusetts, and Jno. N. Commons, for Indiana, are rejected.

The report that Mr. Evarts had delivered an opinion in favor of full pay to government operatives, for eight hours work, is confirmed.

Over one thousand miles of the Pacific Railroad west of Omaha will be completed before the work is suspended for the season.

General Sheridan asks for more men, and the Secretary of War is forwarding recruits as rapidly as possible.

Geo. B. McCarto, who has been acting as chief of the printing division of the Treasury Department during Mr. Clark's leave of absence, will probably be permanently appointed to that position, now that Clark's resignation has been accepted, and the latter is therefore no longer connected with that office.

The nomination of Joseph R. West, as Supervisor for Louisiana, was confirmed by Secretary McCulloch, but the commission is withheld, as Commissioner Rollins desires to withdraw the nomination. The Secretary has rejectrd Spencer Kirby as Supervisor for the Eastern Division of New York.

The receipts of Internal Revenue to-day amounted to only $165,433.

During the past week the Commissioner of Patents has received two hundred and ten applications for patents and thirty-five caveats, and issued two hundred and twenty-four patents.

Geo. B. Williams has been appointed Supervisor for Indiana.

Gen. Michler, Superintendant of Public Buildings, recommends in his report that a large appropriation be made for the annual repairs of the Executive Mansion and for refurnishing it at the commencement of the next Presidential term.

Preparatory orders have been issued by the Secretary of the Navy to Rear Admiral Radford, now in command of the Washington Navy Yard, to command the European squadron. The Franklin will return to the squadron with Rear Admiral Radford.

Brevet Major General Stoneman, commanding the First Military District, has made his report to the General-in-Chief. The system inaugurated and the policy pursued by General Stoneman having, by long experience, been found complete and satisfactory, the one was adopted and the other followed, with such modification in detail as circumstances arrising from time to time demanded. The fourth article of the Constitution was thought by some to vacate every office in the State filled by persons who came within its provisions. He says his predecessor had made five hundred and thirty-two appointments, very many of them minor positions to fill vacancies caused by death, resignation or removal, and in doing so had very nearly exhausted the available material at his disposal. But one vacancy on the bench had occurred. To fill this it had been deemed necessary to resort to officers of the army to find a person fit for this important position. This instance is cited to show the evident impossibility of carrying on the government of the State, upon the assumption that the thousands of officers in the District, including State officers, Judges, Sheriffs, Commissioners, Commonwealth Attorneys, Magistrates, &c., not to speak of the large number of town or municipal officers, such as Mayors, Councilmen, Aldermen, Constables, Overseers of the Poor, and others, should suddenly cease the performance of their functions, with no possibility of filling their places under the provisions of the reconstruction laws. In some instances it has been found impossible to find any person upon whom an appointment could be conferred and the difficulty has been overcome by devolving the performance of the duties on persons who were not opposed to reconstruction nor disloyal to the government of the United States. General Stoneman recommends the repeal of the ninth section of the act of Congress of July 19th, 1867.

While seeking for some remedy for the evils which it was feared, with reason, might ensue, the question by non-action substantially settled itself, and possibly this result was promoted by his opportune absence from the State immediately subsequent to the adjournment of Congress, and things moved on as before under the provisions of the reconstruction law then and now in full operation.

Since August the forces in that district have been reduced by sending a squad of cavalry to the plains, the battery of artillery to Washington, and the Twenty-ninth Infantry to Tennessee. The companies which remain have been greatly depleted by reason of the number of men discharged on account of the expiration of their service. A large number will be discharged during the next three months, and consequently by the first of January next the whole number in the district will be much below one thousand in the aggregate.

Among the more important questions that have presented themselves is the Methodist Church contest. After a careful investigation, and an able opinion thereon by Judge Advocate Colonel B. H. Burnham, it has not been deemed advisable, as yet, to make any order thereon. The investigation shows that it embraces most delicate questions of law, both statute and ecclesiastical, and is one, General Stoneman says, that can only be settled by the decision of the highest tribunal, or by legislative enactment. Special cases as they have arisen, and have been settled on the principle of recognizing the claims of both contestants and giving each the right of occupying on alternate weeks.

Arrangements have been made with most of the R. R. Co.'s advantageous, to them as well as to the State, by which it is hoped they will be able to pay, in a reasonable time, their dues to the treasury. This arrangement contemplates that one-third share be paid in currency, and the balance in state bonds. The appointment of officers and directors for the State and the extension of the stay law have not yet been determined, and are questions for further consideration.

The report contains a correspondence between Messrs. Robert Ould, Marmaduke Johnson and Thomas A. Evans, a committee of the State Central Conservative Committee, appointed to confer with the General in reference to holding an election for Presidential Electors. Gen. Stoneman, in reply as to whether they can cite any law authorizing him, as Military Commander, to order or authorize such election, says:

"If the District Commanders cannot prohibit it according to law, they cannot permit it, in the sense of the order, or authorize or give an official sanction without in any manner expressing any opinion on the propriety, right or duty of the people of Virginia, or any portion of them, at this time, to peaceably form and ballot for any persons as Electors for President and Vice President. He suggested the inquiry whether or not the inaction of any such course of procedure, calculated to excite and disturb the public mind, would be wise or prudent. My duties, he said, are plain and marked out by the law placing me here, and are confined to protecting all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and punish, or cause to be punished, all disturbers of the public peace, and criminals, and obey the lawful orders of my properly constituted superiors.

A writ of habeas corpus has been applied for, and it is understood to be granted to test the legality of the action of the District Commander in regard to the fourteenth article of the Constitution. But what the result will be remains to be determined.

The affairs connected with the Bureau of Refuge and Freedmen and Abandoned Lands in Virginia have been managed with ability and discretion, reflecting great credit on the able and upright Assistant Commissioner. General Brown, and his subordinates, has, as far as General Stoneman is informed, performed their several duties to the general satisfaction of those concerned, and sought, so far as in their power, to see justice done and the rights of the negroes protected. In doing this, they had on one hand ignorance, and on the other prejudices, to contend against and overcome. Instances, though vet rare, have been brought to his attention where violence has been used towards them; but those cases were confined to individuals, and not chargeable to communities. The abusos practiced towards the negroes, which have been reported by the bureau agents, have been in all instances, investigated by military commissions, and the civil authorities have been required to see that justice was administered. As the law now stands, and in accordance with its requirements, many of the functions of the Bureau will cease on the first of January.

In consideration of the unreconstructed state of the State, with no Legislature to make laws, or regulations, or appropriations of monies; with an exhausted treasury and an apathetic people, a further continuance becomes an important matter, worthy of the early attention of Congress. The officers, both civil and military, have generally performed their duties with a willingness worthy of commendation, and to this, together with the respect to law and justice manifested by the people, white and black, is due the quiet and good order which reigns throughout the State.

NEW YORK CITY.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 18, 1868.

THE ERIE RAILROAD MUDDLE.

The new Erie litigation is the leading topic in Wall street, and at present seems to stand as follows: On the 16th instant Judge Sutherland of the Supreme Court, granted an injunction restraining the Directors from issuing any more stock, or from removing any papers or funds of the company out of the jurisdiction of the Court, and from using any of said funds for other than the legitimate requirements of the company. This injunction was granted on complaint of August Belmont and E. B. Lucke, and was supported by affidavits of Daniel Drew. An order was issued by the same Justice, to show cause, on or before the 28th instant, why a receiver should not be appointed. On the same date Mr. Charles McIntosh representing himself as owner of 2,000 shares of stock, made complaint before Judge Barnard, supported by affidavit of James Fisk, charging among other things hostle to the interests of the Erie Co. that certain persons, including the complainants in suit, before Judge Sutherland, were engaged in depressing the market price of the stock, and that they threatened to commence litigation and make application to the courts for an appointment of receiver.

On this complaint the Judge ordered that the persons named in the complaint of McIntosh, and the affidavit of Fisk, should refrain from the commencement of suit against the Erie Directors or from obtaining orders on exparte applications from the courts; and also that they should not apply for a Receiver. In addition he appointed Jay Gould as Receiver of the company, on his filing a bond of two millions of dollars. The injunctions appear to be in direct conflict with each other. It is understood that Judge Barnard has issued an order enjoining the plaintiffs in the suit commenced yesterday from taking proceedings in the premises.

RETRENCHMENT COMMITTEE STILL AT WORK.

The Sub-Committee of the Congressional Committee on Retrenchment met to-day and examined several Collectors of Internal Revenue of this city. Mr. Fullerton also appeared and was examined as to the various matters to which public attention has been lately directed, and explained fully his connection with the investigation of Revenue frauds in this city. He testified that the money and bonds taken from a certain ex-collector of the city at the office of D. C. Birdsall were for different purposes than those that have been alleged as lately published in the newspapers; that he was only acting as counsel for one of the parties and had no share or interest in the money paid by said collector at that time, and that no money and bonds were taken by the collector's counsel and returned by him to Smith, less his expenses and counsel fee. The Committee adjourned till Friday.

ARRIVAL OF THE PASSENGERS OF THE SHIP ISAAC WEBB.

The ship Isaac Webb, from Liverpool, which went ashore on the outer middle last night in the gale, has been got off and taken to the government dock at Sandy Hook, and the passengers and luggage brought to the city. She reports that seven deaths occurred during her voyage, among whom was Capt. Stowell, on the 24th, from injuries received from a sea shipped by the Webb. The passengers, three hundred and fifty-four in number, have been at work on the pumps for thirty days and are completely worn out.

ARREST OF A BANKER.

John L. Beach, a well known resident of Brooklyn, was yesterday arrested by Detective Smith on a charge of having in his possession several one thousand dollar bonds of the bounty loans of Onondaga county, New York, which it is alleged were stolen with other securities from the Syracuse Savings Bank, on the 1st of April last. Mr. Beach is a broker. He will have to explain how he became possessed of the bonds.

GEN. GRANT MAKES A "PLEASANT LITTLE SPEECH."

Gen. Grant's pleasant little speech at the Evarts banquet last night is the talk of the town. He is not troubled with office seekers any more. Mr. Greeley was introduced to the General at Delmonico's, formally, yesterday. They had never met before. The meeting was very cordial, and gave rise to the report that Horace will certainly go into the Cabinet.

EXCITEMENT IN WALL STREET.

There is no abatement in the excitement in Wall street. Judge Sutherland's injunction on the Erie folks, preventing them from issuing any more stock, adds to the stir. It is now said that the affairs of the Company will have to go into the hands of a Receiver. Erie stock is materially affected of course.

VOTE OF NEW YORK.

With the official returns from all the counties but two, the total vote foots up 848,278, of which 419,556 are for Grant, and 428,722 for Seymour. Seymour's majority is 9,166. Hoffman's majority is 27,322. The official vote of New York city is returned as follows: Seymour, 108,316; Grant, 47,702.

It is said that the Congressional Committee investigating whisky frauds have become completely overwhelmed with testimony, and will hardly be able to agree upon a report.

BANKERS ABOUT TO WIND UP.

It is reported that two of our bankers who have been lending themselves to speculation of late, will have to wind up in a short time. Thus far they manage to close their accounts regularly and proceed with business.

REPORT DENIED.

The report that the Erie directors have taken quarters in Jersey City is denied. It is probable that such a move will be made by Daniel Drew, who will take the books of the company with him.

EVANGELICAL CONVENTION.

The National Evangelical Convention is still in session. Speeches were made to-day to show how the influence of the Gospel might be extended everywhere.

The deck sweep, a boy, is missing, probably drowned. The rest of the crew and passengers are safe. The steamer Melnotte came to the relief of the McCullough and brought all on board to shore. GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, November 18.—The Times this morning claims that the Liberal majority thus far is one hundred and twenty. The new voters adhere to the teachings of the constitution, but not as read by Disraeli. They have agreed to redress all wrongs and to reject change for the simple sake of change. The result of the elections thus far justifies the reform act as an improvement in the legislative machines, and discredits the prediction that it would enthrone the mobs and encourage the dreams of a wild democracy.

LONDON, November 18.—The Morning Herald to-day says: Whatever sentence the Ministry may meet hereafter, the verdict was not against them yesterday. On the contrary, the party now in power, has been able to command the Government for two years, though in a minority, and it is now less in a minority than before, as the Conservative gains more than counterbalances the Conservative losses. London City, which is entitled to four members of Parliament, has so far elected three of the four Liberal candidates. Richard Gaggally, Conservative, is defeated in Herford. Later returns show that Edmund Beals, Liberal candidate for Lower Hamlets, has been defeated.

LONDON, November 18.—W. H. Russell, "Bull Run Russell," Liberal Conserative, is defeated in Chelsea; Thos. Milner Gibson, Liberal, defeated from Ashlow. Chelsea returns two Liberals, Sir H. Hoare and Mr. H. Dilke; Southampton returns two Conservatives, Messrs. Russell Guerney and P. M. Hoare, Dublin University returns two Conservatives; Liverpool has elected Mr. Graves and Lord Landon; both Conservatives, and one of the two Liberal candidates; Edward Pleydell Bouverie, Liberal, is elected from Kilmarmock.

It is understood that if Mr. Gladstone is declared elected from the Southwest the Lancashire Liberals will run John Stuart Mill in Greenwich, where he will be sure of an election.

LONDON, November 18—Midnight.—All the returns received up to this hour show that the Liberals have so far elected 238 members, gaining 60 seats, and the Conservatives have elected 125, with a gain of 30. Sir Daniel Gooch, Conservative, has been returned from Cricklade. Dublin re-elects her members in the last House.

ITALY.

NEW YORK, November 18.—The Herald's Naples special says: The streams of lava ejected by the eruption of Vesuvius have filled and overflowed the Fossevetrana, and are still following the course of the eruption of 1855. Last night the upper cone discharged columns of ashes, occasionally illuminated by flashes of flame. The spectacle is magnificent, and many persons are going to Naples to witness it.

John E. Latta, a well known lawyer and politician, died here yesterday.

Sallie McDevitt, a young girl engaged in a factory up town, had an arm torn off at the shoulder by getting it caught in the machinery. She is not expected to live.

Meeting of Tobacconists and Wholesale Grocers—The Great Billiard Match.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—A meeting of the tobacconists and wholesale grocers was held at the Tremont House last night, to take some action in reference to the unequal taxation under the act of July, 1868. The attendance was quite large, and resolutions were adopted characterizing the provisions of the law under which they are taxed as oppressive and unjust. An executive committee was appointed to take such action as may seem advisable and to correspond with the trade throughout the country, and request their co-operation. The meeting was briefly addressed by Congressman Judd, who considered that very great wrong had been done, and he had no doubt that Congress would remedy the matter. A memorial to Congress, praying for the repeal of a portion of sections seventy-eight and ninety-four of the act imposing taxes on distilled spirits and tobacco, approved July 20, 1868, was referred to the Executive Committee.

Major Demby then charged their line, killed nine of them, wounded many more and captured twenty prisoners, twenty stand of arms, thirty-five horses and mules and completely routed the remainder of the party.

He says he knows his rights, and knowing, shall maintain them, and he will be assisted, if necessary, by all the powers of the Government.

Senator Wilson made a speech, in which he said when this question was kept distinct from other matters he favored giving women the right to vote, and that they should appeal to the higher and nobler sentiments of the people and not to their passions and their prejudices. At the evening meeting addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Stratton, of the Worcester Congregationalist, Mrs. Lucy Stone, Blackwell, Dr. Alcott, Mrs. Adelaide Brown, and Col. R. J. Aintora, of Kansas. At least one man up town couldn't keep wolf away from his door, on Saturday, if the reporters are to be relied on.

Why was the lion on Saturday night like the goddess of morning? Why, because he was A-roarer, of course.

All the other beasts in the conflagrated menagerie were scared, but the buffalo was abuff-a-low exhibition of fright.

It is thought now that the tiger mistook that private house for a church, and went in there to prey.

The total valuation of these quarries is about $2,000,000, We have no means of ascertaining the value of their annual product, but it must be immense. RIVER NEWS.

The river was rising slowly last evening, with five feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. The weather yesterday was cloudy and cold, and for the present, the rain may be considered over.

There has been no arrivals or departures, since the date of our last report, and business, continues dull.

The Armadillo, Capt. D. H. Swaney, will take her departure to-day, for New Orleans. Among other items of freight she has nearly four thousand plows.

SINKING OF THE J. N. MCCULLOUGH.—We regret to learn that the fine side-wheel steamer J. N. McCullough, sunk on Tuesday night, near Madison, Indiana, one hundred miles below Cincinnati. She was en route from Louisville to Pittsburgh, and collided with the towboat Tigress, on mile above the Madison wharfboat, and the injuries she received were of such a character that sunk in three minutes thereafter in seventeen feet of water. The McCullough was just about one year old, cost about $60,000, was owned by Captain Geo. D. Moore, his brother Dan and Andrew Ackley. She was valued at $52,000, and was insured for $35,000, all in Pittsburgh offices, as follows: Western, $5,000; Monongahela, $5,000; Citizens, $5,000; Merchants & Manufacturers, $5,000; Pittsburgh, $5,000; Peoples, $5,000, and Allegheny, $5,000.

As to whether or not she can be raised, it is difficult at this writing to conjecture; Capt. Geo. Neeld, of the Board of Underwriters, left for Cincinnati at two o'clock yesterday afternoon to look after the wreck. The McCullough was one of the finest boats we had, and we regret exceedingly to hear of the accident.

In answer to the interrogatory concerning Captain John S. McMillin, in Saturday's GAZETTE, the Captain desires us to state that, having recently come into possession of a "little responsibility," at home, his spare moments are employed there.

A cabin boy on the R. C. Gray is supposed to have fallen overboard and drowned from that boat, on her recent up trip, some thirty miles above Cincinnati. He was sent below for a scuttle of coal; the scuttle was afterward found on the guard, but the boy was nowhere to be seen. He shipped on the boat at Cincinnati, said he came from Detroit, Michigan, where he has a brother residing. The boy, it appears, was in low spirits, being out of funds and employment, prior to shipping on the Grey, and the stewart, Mr. Woods, thinks that he may have jumped overboard intentionally.

The Leonidas, Capt. Ed. Evans, will posisively leave for St. Louis on Saturday, and pasengers, and shippers should bear this in mind.

The new steamer Arkansas, Capt. A. H. Shaw, is filling up steadily for New Orleans, and will be ready to leave within a very short time.

The Bayard, Capt. A. S. Shepard, is the regular packet for Parktrsburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Wild Duck and Barges, are announced to leave for St. Louis, this evening without fail, at least Capt. Anawalt says so, and he ought to know. She will receive freight for all intermediate points, including Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville and Cairo.

The Tom Farrow Barges, Capt. Mathews, will commence after the departure of the Wild Duck.

Capt. A. R. Irwin, of the Nick Longworth, and a brother of John M. Irwin, of this city, died at his residence, in Cincinnati, yesterday, of consumption.

—The Glendale, arrived at St. Louis, on Monday.

—The Sallie, enroute from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, passed Evansville on Monday.

—The St. Charles, left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday, with five hundred tons of freight, and a few passengers.

—Captain Sam. Black has been appointed general passenger agent of the Louisville and New Orleans Packet Line, at Louisville.

—On the 11th a collision occurred at Muscatine between the Diamond Jo and Pembina, the stern of the latter, while swinging out, striking the bow of the former while coming in. The stern of the Pembina was somewhat damaged by the accident.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Monday, says: We are informed that parties were on 'Change Saturday representing 500 tons of freight, for which they wanted transportion to Arkansas river. The Ida Adkins, Antelope and Ben. Johnson were spoken of, but we believe that no engagements were made.

—The Fawn, a side-wheel steamer, a little larger than a good sized yawl, passed down over the falls, at Louisville, on Sunday. No one seemed to know from whence she came or where she was bound. The Captain did not think it necessary to employ a falls pilot, preferring to take the risk to paying the necessary fee.

—The Shark arrived at New Orleans from St. Louis on the 12th, with five barges, containing 10,468 bbls and 705 half bbls flour, 1269 bbls and 1099 sacks potatoes, 300 bbls pork, 801 bbls apples, 147 bbls whisky, 2473 sacks oats, 1410 sacks bran, 711 bales hay, 76 tierces hams, 79 cks bacon, 97 kgs and 30 tierces lard, and 5,255 sundries—in all, 24,917 pkgs.

—The Vicksburg Herald says: Competition is rife among the lower trade packets to a great extent. Prices on up freights have been cut down to a low figure while a dollar per bale is all that is asked on cotton from this port. "Competition" is said to be the life of trade, but like the frog in the stable there is considerable death about it if it is fun for the boys.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial: The Madison packet Lady Grace, while upward bound, Sunday night, at 11 o'clock, when opposite Millersburg, Indiana, knocked out the forward head of her starboard cylinder. She was towed here by the Champion, and will lay by for repairs. The America went down in her place, having been chartered by Capt. Troy.

—The Dexter left Louisville for New Orleans on the 12th, and the Richmond goes next Saturday. The directors of the Mississippi Valley Navigation Co., and Capt. DeHaven, have arrived at Louisville from New Orleans. They are stopping at the National. Capt. J. E. Montgomery has received the presidency of the compay. Dr. Watkins, of Memphis, was elected in his place. Capt. Montgomery went out in charge of the Dexter.

—The Winona Democrat says that the Northern line and the White Collar line, in trying to break up each other, "have undertaken an 'all-fired' heavy contract, and either, we opine, will find that his opponent will die hard, and posses a greater number of lives than a Maltese cat. But it will do no good for outside influence to cry 'don't!' for they are both up to the boiling point, and are as 'grifty' as a doughball rolled in sand, and, as fight they must, all we or anybody else can do is to 'let them fight!' They only will be the losers, while it will open up a rich harvest for shippers and travelers."

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be, and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out of the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. K. says that he has known the most distressing and harassing coughs, whose vibrations would threaten to shake the whole constitution to pieces, removed in the course of a few days In long standing cases of consumption, or of other sometimes fatal, but always troublesome and annoying maladies, known as catarrh, chronic bronchitis, trachitis or pharyngitis, it is a wonderful alleviating medicine in the former and a sure cure in he latter disease.

DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE IS ENRICHED BY SOME OF THE MOST VALUABLE PLANTS AND HERBS KNOWN TO BE USEFUL AND CURATIVE IN ALL DETERIORATED STATES OF THE HUMAN BLOOD, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, hopelessly incurable and so most surely fatal.

Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 135¼.

THE marriage of the Vice President elect, HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX, took place yesterday at Andover, Ohio. The bridal party reached the city by last evening's train, and left shortly afterwards in a special car for the East, the particulars of which are noted elsewhere.

BEFORE the work of the season is suspended, there will be completed over one thousand miles of the Union Pacific Railroad. The rapidity with which this great undertaking has been put forward excites wonder, and the work when completed will form the proudest monument in the world to man's enterprise and mechanical ability.

THE 848,278 votes, cast by New York, at the recent election, indicate that the material progress of the Empire State has kept only a proportionate pace with that of Pennsylvania. Our own vote reveals the Keystone in the same position, relatively, to her powerful neighbor, as her population entitled her to in 1860. The advance of these great and adjoining Commonwealths has been uniformly equal, the same causes working corresponding results in each. The younger Western States have moved more rapidly.

GOV. CLAYTON, of Arkansas, exhibits the "back-bone" very requisite just now in a Southern Executive. The result of the Presidential election proves to the loyalists, in the rebellious States, that Union laws still control them, and that Union men are still living to vindicate the Federal authority. They feel, once more, that the South has not been altogether abandoned to the reign of terror and crime which, only three weeks since, threatened to overwhelm and crush every fabric of law or public authority in those States. It is thus seen how the judgment of the people has promptly fortified an almost despairing loyalty, and re-animated the friends of the Union, to assert the integrity of existing institutions. The Governor of Arkansas now declares to his people that the laws shall be maintained—if need be, with all the force required. In this, CLAYTON, like BROWNLOW, in Tennessee, presents a commendable example to the Executives of the sister States.

THE MOST conspicuous JOHNSON whom we have just now, is our Minister to England. The other twin Dromio unquietly paces up and down the rear of the stage, while the plenipotentiary struts his brief hour before the foot-lights. If the latter persists in his evident resolution to monopolize the brief interval yet left before an inexorable popular will rings down the curtain which shall forever after hide them both from human ken, we must tremble for the consequences. For the President is not the man to be long content with a secondary part in any public affair, and will shortly make himself heard in some way which shall mark his own sense of his slighted dignity. In the meantime, the Minister's latest utterance is to assure some of his English friends that Texas is as safe for intending immigrants, as any part of the Union. Here is the way he puts it:

"That there are acts of violence in that State is no doubt true, but not more, I believe, than occur in either of the other States, or in any other country. I have no doubt, therefore, that emigrants into the State will be as safe as in any other part of the Union."

AN OFFICIAL proclamation, from the Governor of this Commonwealth, announces the election of twenty-three Congressmen in October, the names corresponding to the generally accepted results. As to the XXIst, or Westmoreland, district, however, the Governor certifies that:

—"no such returns of the election have been received by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, as would, under the election laws of the State, authorize me to proclaim the name of any person as having been returned duly elected a member of the House of Representatives of the United States for that district."

Two seperate certificates have been given by the Return Judges in this district, one to Mr. COVODE, and the other to his opponent, Mr. FOSTER. Other accounts from Harrisburg state that a large number of the fraudulent SNOWDEN certificates of naturalization, issued in Philadelphia only four or five days before the election, are discovered to have been voted upon—of course, for the Democratic candidate, in this district. This fact adds to the weight of the testimony which will satisfy Congress—upon which the settlement of the controversy will devolve—that Mr. COVODE has been elected by a clear majority of the legal votes of his district.

THE NEW SPAIN.

Already the report comes to us that a Republic has been proclaimed at Madrid, and that many leaders of the Spanish people have discarded monarchical ideas forever. The Liberal sentiment in every country of Europe sympathizes with the new movement, regarding its success as certain to inaugurate for Spain that new era of harmony, peace and prosperity, which shall replace her among the leading nations of the world. Nevertheless, we can find no evidences that her people are yet so radically penetrated with the intelligent spirit of a true Democracy, as to encourage a just hope that any system of a purely popular self-government is about to be accepted or established below the Pyrenees. The utmost that can be expected, from the Republican opinions which begin now to leaven the masses in Spain, will be their imprint upon the limited constitutional monarchy to which her people are destined to come. The influence of English example is stronger in Spain than that of any other foreign nation on the globe, and, although our own Republic is not without its intelligent admirers among her people, yet is is to England that the predominant middle classes of Spain will look for the true type of their own most fitting institutions, and will feel their preference to be warranted, by an example so near to them and so conspicuous for its successful combination of national power with individual freedom. The day has not yet come, to look for the realization of a national Democracy in any part of the European continent, and least of all upon the Iberian peninsula.

THE ENGLISH ELECTIONS.

The people of England have achieved a wonderful triumph. The recent Parliamentary elections, being the first under the reformed and enlarged suffrage, have resulted in a largely increased Liberal majority in the Commons, the London Times placing that majority at one hundred and twenty. But even this extraordinary manifestation of Liberal progress is not the most conspicuous element which the canvass has displayed. In the fact that the enlarged constituencies—a considerable part of which have exercised the privileges of the voter for the first time—have, in the main, conducted the elections with an unprecedented good order and decorum, is to be found, perhaps, one of the highest proofs that the masses have been educated, by the progress of events, into a thorough fitness for their newly acquired rights of citizenship. Disorder, riot and venality have, from immemorial days, characterized the English hustings. With each enlargement of the suffrage qualifications has come an equally marked improvement in the morals of the succeeding canvasses, until now we are informed that the last great step, which has almost made a man and a voter synonymous terms throughout England, has been inaugurated in the most orderly and quiet election ever known in the history of the kingdom.

Who shall hereafter, in England, say that an intelligent and Christian people are unfit or incompetent to govern themselves? Who shall estimate the ultimate limits of that influence, towards a more radical and comprehensive progress in the direction of a living and practical Democracy, which must result from this exhibition of the wise self-control of a great people? To Americans, there is nothing surprising in that experience which has just awakened the admiration, not only of Englishmen, but of all Europe. It simply gratifies our National pride to perceive that a kindred people have come to share with us in submission to this one essential principle which underlies all rightly constituted governments—the expressed and authoritative consent of the governed. Let us equally rejoice that the people of that land—a motherland for so much of America—have taken now so long a step forward, in that way which will inevitably lead them to a still more enlightened civilization and to loftier national glories.

NEWSPAPERS AS READERS.

The subject of introducing daily papers into the public schools in place of the readers now in use excites considerable attention. The reasons urged in favor of the proposition are more than counterbalanced by those put forward in opposition to the innovation. The Philadelphia Press in commenting on the subject, says:

"The literary tone of a daily paper cannot be high, except in some few favored instances. However brilliant or classically pure from time to time certain articles or selections may be, as a rule, a newspaper cannot be accepted as a model of style. Then, could we rely on the average class of teachers to select the best of such as would be found? And, finally, there must always be in a newspaper certain departments and subjects which should not be brought under the eyes of children, as, for instance, the police columns, the record of crimes, accidents, and a thousand things which grown up people demand, but which children had better not be taught too early.

It is a sad commentary on the times in which we live that a daily journal cannot be made up with just such matter as might with impunity be placed in the hands of the purest and most innocent without the fear of entailing disastrous consequences. In this rapid day of progress and advancement the conductor of a newspaper is forced to give place in his columns to matter which would much better remain unwritten, but the demand made by the public for minute particulars of all that is going on about them of a criminal nature, ensures the publication. If, through a sense of responsibility, the editor expunges such matter from his paper, he is at once charged with a lack of enterprise, and his subscribers will drop off to bestow their patronage on the wickedest men in the business. Until a more correct taste exists in the children of larger growth, who, as much as the manager of a paper, are responsible for its contents, the daily journal should be kept out of the school room, and the prosy readers retained for the young.

United States Senators from Pennsylvania.

As the question "Who shall be the United States Senator from Pennsylvania to succeed Mr. Buckalew?" is now agitating the politicians, or rather the Republicans—who have the majority of the Legislature, thanks to the patriotism of our people—it may be not be uninteresting to know who have held the honorable position.

The following list prepared from the official records by the Titusville Herald, gives the name of every Senator from Pennsylvania from the commencement of the Government under the constitution (March 4, 1789) to the present time, with the date on which each commenced his term of service, and when the term expired, either by law or resignation:

William Maclay, March 4, 1789, March 3, 1791.

Opinions of the Press.

[From the Scranton Republican.]

Mr. Grow is now a prominent candidate for the next United States Senatorship. His name has been presented for the position by the Republican press, and is endorsed by many and influential journals in all sections of the State. We of the northeastern tier are united upon him, believing our claims are entitled to recognition, and that our interests are of sufficient importance to warrant our claiming representation in the list of honorable and responsible positions within the gift of the party. The people of Pennsylvania owe Mr. Grow a substantial reward for the success recently achieved under his auspices. Their representatives in the Legislature can choose no one more deserving, and none better qualified by nature, education and experience to adorn the place with distinguished fidelity and credit to the State.

[From the McKean Miner.]

Since the October election there has been more or less discussion in the papers of Pennsylvania upon the subject of a successor to Mr. Buckalew in the Senate of the United States. The names of some very excellent men have been announced, but none have we seen that meets our approval as much as that of the Hon. G. W. Scofield of Warren county. We look upon him as pre-eminently qualified for that high and responsible position, and we trust the good sense of the Legislature will be shown in his election. If Judge Scofield was as well known in other parts of the State as he is in this district, we believe he would scarcely have an opponent. Where he is known his superior talents and capacity for so prominent a position are appreciated.

[From the York True Democrat.]

Aside from the well-established custom of party regulation, Governor Geary possesses strong claims as a candidate for re-nomination. As an executive, he is second to no man who ever filled the gubernatorial chair of this Commonwealth. His administration has been marked by sagacity, statesmanship, and unswerving fidelity, not only to the party that placed him in power, but to the great principles of justice and liberty.

[From the Hollidaysburg Register.]

General Geary has been a good soldier, makes an able, safe and excellent Governor, and the people of the glorious Old Keystone will continue him in his present position by a majority equal to that which she has just given to his old companion in arms, General Grant.

[From the State Guard.]

According to precedent established by the Republicans of the Legislature, State Treasurers are re-elected for three terms. General Irwin is in his first term, and we question whether any man placed at the head of the Treasury ever, in so short a time, made so able and so successful a financial officer. His uniform deportment, both as a man and an officer, has been unexceptionable.

DEATH OF A ROTHSCHILD.—On Sunday, in Paris, died Baron James Rothschild, fifth son of Mayer Anselm Rothschild, the founder of the great Rothschild European family of bankers. His father had ten children, five of them sons. James was the head of the house in Paris. He was born May 5th, 1792, and was for a time with his brother Solomon, in Vienna, but eventually took up his residence in Paris. The five brothers constituted but one firm, in which all had an equal interest, but conducted the business under five branches, each under the charge of one of the brothers. Of the five brothers James was the only one still living, but the members of the family of the third and fourth generation have been taken into partnership.

Management of English Elections.

There is no uniform day for voting in England as there is here; but the limit of variation in time cannot much exceed a week. In every place entitled to be represented in Parliament is a person called "the returning officer," whose duty it is to manage the election. In counties, the Sheriff, and in cities and boroughs the Mayor, Bailiff, or some other person duly appointed, is the returning officer. The writs from the Lord Chancellor of the Kingdom are dispatched to these returning officers, commanding them to elect their members, which they must do in boroughs within six days after the receipt of the writ; while in the counties twelve days are allowed, but the election must not be held sooner than the sixth day. Upon the day fixed, called the nomination day, a covered platform called the hustings is erected in the principal town in counties and in some convenient locality in other places, upon which the candidate for election and their friends assemble. The returning officer takes the oath against bribery and for the proper discharge of his duties. The candidates are proposed by one supporter and seconded by another. They then address the electors, stating their political opinions and their claims to represent them. If the number of persons proposed does not exceed that which the electors are entitled to send to Parliament, they are elected then and there; if more be put in nomination, and a contdst arises, the returning officer calls for a "show of hands," and declares which candidate has the largest number held up for him, but as there is no way of discovering whether all who thus give their vote are entitled to one, any candidate unwilling to abide by this decision may demand a poll. When this is taken, each elector appears before persons appointed by the returning officer as his deputies, and decides for which candidate he intends to vote. This poll is entered by the clerks in the poll-books, which at the expiration of time allowed by law for polling, are taken to the returning officer. The votes are added up and the candidate who are found to have gained the highest number of votes are declared by him to be duly elected. In counties the poll remains open for two days, and in cities and boroughs for one only.

JAMES PARTON writes in Packard's Monthly:

"If you look into the early life of truly helpful men, those who make life easier and nobler to those who come after them you will almost invariably find that they lived purely in the days of their youth. In early life the brain, though abounding in vigor, is sensitive and very susceptible to injury, and this to such a degree that a comparatively brief and moderate indulgence in vicious pleasures appears to lower the tone and impair both the delicacy and efficiency of the brain for life. This is not preaching, boys, it is simply the truth of science."

THE COURTS.

Supreme Court.

Court met at the usual hour yesterday morning. Present, Chief Justice Thompson, Judges Sharswood, Read and Williams. The following business was transacted:

The followfng cases were argued:

Carnahan vs. Brown, and Boyd vs. Kier, Allegheny county Common Please. Submitted.

Chapman vs. Chapman et al., Fayette county. Judgment affirmed. Opinion by Agnew, J.

Baker's appeal, Westmoreland county. Decrees made at length. Opinion by Agnew, J.

The Court then adjourned to meet in Philadelphia on the first Monday in January next.

U. S. District Court—Judge M'Candless.

Henry Mollman, indicted for retailing liquor without license, plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine to the United States of twenty dollars and costs.

In the Bankruptcy branch petitions for discharge were filed by Aaron Kline, Jacob B. Snyder, Patrick Keiran, James S. Baker and Wm. R. Baker, of Luzerne county, and James H. Fellows, of Bradford county, and the usual orders were made.

The jury were discharged until Monday; Nov. 30, 1868.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

Court met at the usual hour, Judge Hampton on the bench.

Building and Loan Association of Pittsburgh vs. Jacobus et al., reported on trial yesterday, is not yet concluded.

Following is the trial list for to-day:

28. Alcheson vs. Waldein.
29. Wolf vs. Marion Oil Company.
31. Volz vs. Administrators of Jacob Hickendorn.
33. Herron vs. Patterson, Neehous & Co.
34. Graff vs. Spence.
35. McKee vs. Ditheridge.
37. Haffey et al. vs. O'Brien et al.
38. McClurg vs. Connellsville Railroad Company.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Sterrett.

Court met at ten o'clock yesterday morning, Judge Sterrett on the bench. The following business was transacted.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT.

Susan Troy, indicted for felonious assault and battery, on oath of Ellen Dripps, was put on trial, and plead not guilty. The accused, it appears, had threatened to run a carving knife through the prosecutrix, but made no attempt to carry her threat into execution. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and the accused was discharged.

NOT GUILTY.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. John Fitzgerald, indicted for receiving stolen goods. It was alleged by the prosecution that the accused had purchased a lot of railroad iron which was said to have been stolen from the Outer Depot of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company. The iron alleged to have been stolen was found in the defendant's stable, in the Sixth ward. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

FALSE PRETENCES.

William B. Hollis, indicted for obtaining money under false pretences, was next put upon trial. It appears that the defendant was an agent for the American Life Insurance Company, and in that capacity had given a policy to Christopher Kuhlman for $3,000, and, as Mr. Kuhlman had not the ready money to pay the premium, Hollis advanced fifty dollars, taking Kuhlman's note for the same. Before the money was paid to Hollis, Mr. Kuhlman died, and Mr. Hollis, it is alleged, claimed that he was entitled to a portion of the $3,000 on account of having advanced the fifty dollars. His demand was at first refused, but Hollis threatened to have the payment of the policy stopped if he was not well paid, and finally succeeded in obtaining $500. William Kuhlman, son of Christopher Kuhlman, then made information charging him with obtaining money under false pretences. The testimony was concluded, and counsel will argue the case before the Jury this morning.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

Burke & Glass vs. Francis L. Lee, et al., reported yesterday. Verdict for plaintiff for $201.47.

Joseph Wolsencroft vs. Sigmund Goldstein. This was an action brought to recover damages, alleged to have been sustained for malicious prosecution and false imprisonment. The plaintiff in this action being desirous of taking to himself a wife, on the 1st of July, accompanied by a friend came to this city for the purpose of procuring the necessary outfit for the occasion, and after having accomplished his mission, went home, and upon opening and examining his purchases, found that a pair of boys pants had been placed in the package instead of those he had purchased and paid for. He came back to the city the next day to have the pants exchanged so as to be ready for the wedding, which was to take place that evening, but instead of effecting an exchange, Goldstein had him arrested for larceny, alleging that he had stolen the pants. He was confined in the lock-up until late in the evening, when the case was discharged by the Mayor. Hence the action for damages. Jury out.

The following is the trial list for to-day:

179. Wurtzel & Co. vs. Duckham.

MORTGAGES.

Same day twelve mortgages were filed.

Going to Illinois.

John O'Brien and Owen McIntyre started from Mansfield on a journey to the Garden State of the West, Illinois. Their journey was interrupted, however, at the Union Depot, by one of Alderman Strain's guardians of the law, who insisted upon their accompanying him to the office of that worthy official. Upon their arrival there they were informed that their late landlord, Mr. Peter Allshouse, had made information against them for fraud, for attempting to leave the State without paying their boarding bills, O'Brien being indebted in that particular, $28,75, and McIntyre, $4,50. The travellers were lodged in the county jail to await a further hearing.

IS SICKNESS AVOIDABLE?

Thousands toss on sick-beds to-day who might have been well and hearty, had they taken due precautions for the preservation of that most precious of earthly blessings, a sound mind in a sound body. Sickness, to a greater extent than most people suppose, is avoidable. When the body is languid, the spirits depressed, and the nervous system unnaturally sensitive, it should be taken for granted that mischief is brewing. These hints and warnings, vouchsafed as such by a kind Providence, ought not to be disregarded. If they are slighted, as is too generally the case, the next thing may be a fever, a severe bilitous attack, or some other form of acute disease. They indicate as clearly as if the intimation were given in articulate language, that the animal functions are disordered, and the system debilitated. Under these circumstances, the ONLY THING TO BE DONE IS TO REGULATE AND RESTORE, and the BEST REGULATING AND RESTORATIVE PREPARATION EVER USED FOR THE PREVENTION OF SICKNESS is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. In this way, bilious remittent fever, chills and fever, spasms, nervous paroxysms, violent attacks of indigestion, and all the ordinary epidemics, may almost certainly be averted. They are usually preceded by the symptoms described, and surely it is wisdom to forestall them by resorting to an antidote at once harmless, agreeable and invigorating. Most assuredly, it will soon dissipate the unpleasant feelings referred to; which, of course, is desirable, even if they were not likely to lead to something worse. The close of the Fall is usually accompanied by unhealthy fogs and violent atmospheric changes, and it is therefore a season when invigoration is particularly needed.

LET ANY ONE TRY A FEW BOTTLES OF DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE AND IT WILL ESTABLISH ITS MERITS BEYOND CONTROVERSY.

We feel, in whatever we say in its behalf, that we are conferring a benefit upon thousands of people who would be benefitted by its use. Take any large audience or gathering of people, pay attention for a moment, and see if one out of every ten is not afflicted with a cough. There is no cough without some difficulty of the throat or lungs—trifling it may be at the outset, but gradually growing more and more fearful, until the constitution, at last, is made to succumb to its ravages; and what would have yielded in the beginning to a few doses of medicine has become a fearful lesion, involving life itself. No one can be too careful at this season of the year, to the first premonitors of pulmonary disease, and when a remedy like the one we have named, is within the means of all, the salutary advice which we have given should not be disregarded. Sold at the great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street.

Cornell University.

President White writes as follows: "I desire here to declare my firm belief that there is not any college, in this land or any other, a body of young men of equal number more orderly and earnest. With very few exceptions, they are young men who have no money to waste, and who know the value of time. They are mainly young men who come—not young men who are sent. I have seen much of students, both American and foreign, and I have never known a body of young men so prompt to repress confusion or reprove bad usages at the mere expression of a wish by the President or Faculty. I have never known a body of young men so ready in thought or work; and again I ask that disgraceful transactions be not imputed to them without sufficient evidence, and that for breaches of good taste there be some forbearance for a little time. Toward anything really disgraceful or vicious, however, we ask no forbearance. We only ask that citizens cognizant of the facts place them at once at the disposal of the Faculty, and it may be relied upon that in such cases the University discipline shall be sharp, short and decisive."

ON the 6th of November the Republicans of Kentucky held a large meeting at Lexington to celebrate the election of Grant and Colfax. There was no disturbance during the proceedings; nobody was harmed by them, and the burden of the speeches was peace and brotherhood. Yet the next day all the principal Union men who took part in the meeting were served with notices from a lawless rebel organization, commanding them on pain of death to leave the State within thirty days. And experience will not allow us to believe that these orders and threats are merely the empty mouthings of truculent blackguards. The Ku-Klux Klan have a fancy for murder.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 18, 1868.

The fluctuations in the gold market were considerable to-day; the opening price was 134¼, declined to 134, advanced to 135, and stood at that firm at 3:30 p. m. The intention of the bull opetators is evidently to carry the market far above present quotations, and if not successful now, the attempt will be made again, and the arrangements will warrant a large profit to the operators. The programme is to force specie payments to Europe to cover draft on time, and if this can be effected, a rise of some magnitude is expected on the gold premium.

Government bonds opened at a slight decline, but soon became firm, and closed at an advance of about ¼ per cent. The demand for bonds is still increasing, but only in limited amounts by investers. Pacific Railroad bonds are more inquired for on account of the accumulated gold interest which is payable in January, and for which investers pay only currency. The early completion of the road and the limit to the issue of the bonds will make them as desirable, if not more so, than government securities.

The stock market was a little lower to-day, but with the continued ease in the money at six to seven per cent., the market rallied and advanced rapidly from four to six per cent. The entire market is only preparing for one of those bull movements which may occur about once in every ten years, and whosoever has courage enough to hold out, may make as much at one time as he could make in two or three years at the stock exchange.

Money is very stringent here, and high rates are offered, and demanded.

Business seems to improve, but there is a general complaint in the retail line, even of the necessities of life on account of the want of money to pay for.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 135; United States 1881s, 114¼; Five Twenties, '62, 109⅞; do '64, 107; do '65s, 107¼; do new, 109¼; do; '67s, 110; do '68s, 110¼; Ten-Forties, 104⅜; Silver, 128: Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 30½; Western Union Telegraph, 36; New York Central, 120¼; Erie, 49¾; Reading, 97½; Michigan Southern, 83¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 84¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 105⅜; Northern Western 84; do Preferred, 85; Fort Wayne & Chicago, 108; Merchants Union Express, 20¼; Adams; 48; Pacific Mail, 114⅞.

—The failure of a prominent boot and shoe dealer, in Allegheny city, is reported. Liabilities are large, reaching about $92,000; assets reported at something over $50,000. The creditors, we understand, are mainly eastern parties. The failure created considerable commotion, as the party, heretofore, has stood well in business circles.

—The Chicago Advance, in discussing the question of "more currency," says: "It is always one of the apparent anomalies of an inflated currency, that the more inflated it is, the more pressing seems to be the need for still more. Whoever will take the trouble to study the history of the financial revulsions that have swept over this country will find that they all originated, directly or indirectly, in an inflated currency. It is the bane of such a currency that it fosters extravagance and speculation till the bottom drops out and lets the business world suddenly down on to hard pan by means of panic. We are now doing business on a currency so inflated that it is worth only 75 cents to the dollar."

—The New Orleans Crescent says that the sugar crop on the various plantations in that State promises a large yield. It was apprehended, at one time, from reported damage, caused by the storm, that a deduction on the estimates of the various parishes accurately made, of ten per cent., would be about correct; but now that planters have commenced to grind, it is well ascertained that the yield of the rattoons ground gives satisfaction, and with a continuance of favorable weather the crop of this year will exceed 100,000 hogsheads of sugar, and may reach 130,000 hogsheads.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.: Gold, 134¾; United States Sixes, 1881's, 114¼; 5-20's, 1862, 109⅞; 5-20's, 1864, 107; 5-20's, 1865, 106¾; 10-40's, 104⅜; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 107¾; 5-20's, January and July, '67 110; '68, 110¼; June 7-30's, par less ¼; July 7-30's, do ¼; August 119; Sept., 119; Oct. 118¼; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central, 103.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 18, 1868.

The markets, in a general way, present no new characteristics worthy of special notice. There is no improvement to note in any of the leading articles, either as regards demand or prices, and the feeling of distrust and uncertainty which has prevailed for some time, still continues. Money matters are reported somewhat easier, but the banks continue to discriminate closely, and and any one suspected of overtrading, has but little show of being accommodated.

APPLES—Continue to arrive freely, and while the market is dull, prices are unchanged, ranging from $3 to $4 per bbl, as to quality.

APPLE BUTTER—Unchanged at 70 to 75 in kegs, and 80 to 85 in crocks.

BUTTER—Is in good supply and a little dull but unchanged; sales of good to prime Roll at 35 to 37c, and choice at 39 to 40c.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is dull but unchanged, at 4½ to the trade, and 5 cts in a retail way.

BEANS—Sales of prime small White at $3,75 to $4 per bushel.

CHEESE—Dull; sales of Hamburg at 17c, and Goshen at 19 to 20c.

CHESTNUTS—Quiet and unchanged; small sales at $6,50 per bushel.

CIDER—Is quiet and unchanged at $6 to $9 per bbl, as to quality and size of barrel.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull; we continue to quote Peaches at 12 for quarters and 14 for halves, and apples at 9 to 10c.

EGGS—Unchanged at 33c.

HOMINY—Is quoted at $6,50 to $7 per barrel.

HAY—Baled is in good supply and dull, but unchanged at $18 to $24, as to quality.

POTATOES—Quiet and unchanged; at 75 in bulk, and 80 to 85 sacked. Jersey Sweets $4,50 to $5 per bbl, as to quality.

PROVISIONS—Shoulders 13½, and Sugar Cured Hams 18 to 19; no Sides in this market. Lard 17 to 17½, and Mess Pork (new) $28,00.

LARD OIL—Is in steady demand and we continue to quote No. 1 Winter strained at $1,50.

ONIONS—Continue very dull; small sales at $1,50 per bushel.

GRAIN—There is no improvement to note in the Grain market, with the exception, perhaps, that there is a little stronger feeling. Wheat is dull and nominal at $1,75 to $1,80 for prime Winter, and $1,34 to 1,35 for No. 1 Spring. Oats quiet and unchanged at 63 to 65 on wharf and track, and the usual advance for small lots in store. Corn is dull and prices are entirely nominal; we continue to quote old at $1 to $1,05, and new at 70 to 75. Sale of 5,000 bushels Rye at $1,39. Barley is irregular and unsettled and cannot be quoted correctly.

FEATHERS—Sales to the trade at 75 for Live Geese Feathers, and 80 to 85 for small lots in store.

SEEDS—Flaxseed none in market; small sales of Timothy Seed at $3 to $3,25.

SALT—Is in steady demand, and we can report regular sales at $1,75 on track, and $1,90 to $2, in store.

TALLOW—Prime rendered is in steady demand at 12c.

FLOUR—Is devoid of any new features worthy of special notice. Spring Wheat brands at $7 to $8, for fair to choice. Rye Flour, $8,25. The Pearl Mill prices are for Extra Family in bbls, $9,90 and in sacks $9,60 per bbl; Double Extra Family in barrels $10,40, and in sacks $10,10 per barrel. City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, in barrels, $9,80, and in sacks, $9,50; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,30, and in sacks, $10 per bbl.

WHISKY—Is quiet and unchanged at $1,20 for both Highwines and Rectified.

GROCERIES—The advance in gold has caused a little firmer feeling in Sugars and Coffees, but there is no improvement in the demand, and, ast yet, prices are without quotable change. We continue to quote as follows:

SUGARS—Cuba, 12¼c for good grocery 12¾ to 13c for prime; and 14c for choice; Porto Rico—good, 13c; prime, 13½; choice, 14½ to 15c; Clarified Cuba, 14 to 14½c. Refined—Standard Hard, 17c; A, 16c; B, 15¾c; Extra C, 15¼c; Sugar House, 10½ to 11.

STARCH—Madison, 8c; Silver Gloss, 12½c, and Corn Starch, 13½c.

FRUITS—Layer Rasins, $4,75 per box; Valentia, 20c per lb; Prunes, 17c; Currants, 12½c for new.

BAR LEAD—12½c; Shot, $3,50 per bag.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 17, 1868.

CRUDE.

The market was again very quiet to-day, though fully as strong as it was yesterday, but the fact that Crude is relatively higher than Refined, tends to retard business, and prevents fresh contracts. It is claimed that, at present prices, Refined cannot be laid down in Philadelphia below 27 to 27½, while at the same the market price of the latter, is only 26 to 26¼. This being the case refiners, generally, do not seem inclineed to buy for the present, and they hope that by holding off, they will be enabled to force a reduction. Ten cents is still regarded as the standard price for spot oil, and the same figure will apply to almost any delivery within the next six months, sellers option.

REFINED

The Refined market was a little offish today, particularly for this month, which compared with yesterday is from a quarter to a half lower. Future deliveries, however, are steady with fully as many buyers as there are sellers, and prices are well sustained. We can report 500 bbls on spot at 26; and 1,000 bbls for the last half of November at 26½. The first half of 1869, is quoted at 28½ to 29; last half at 32½ to 33; and March to July, inclusive, at 30½. Therefore, as will be seen, the only difference between the market of to-day, and that of yesterday, is that November is a shade lower.

A Woman on Woman's Fashions.

[From the New York Ledger.]

When I say that the street dress of the majority of respectable women of New York to-day is disgusting, I but feebly express my emotions. I say the respectable women, and yet, save to them who know them to be such, their appearance leaves a wide margin for doubt. The clown at the circus wears not more stunning or parti-colored costume; in fact his has the advantage of being sufficiently "taut"—to use a nautical phraze—not to interfere with locomotion; while their's—what with disgusting humps upon their backs, and big rosettes upon their sides and shoulders, and loops, and folds, and buttons, and tassels, and clasps, and bows upon their skirts, and striped satin petticoats, all too short to hide often clumsy ankles—and more color and shades of colors heaped upon one poor little fashion ridden-body than ever was gathered in one rainbow—and all this worn without regard to temperature, or time, or place—I say this presents a spectacle which is too disheartening even to be comical.

One cannot smile at the young girls who are, one day—Heaven help them—to be wives and mothers. Wives and mothers! I say to myself, as I see the throat and neck with only the protection of a gold locket between itself and the cold autumnal winds. Wives and mothers! I say, as I see them ruining their feet and throwing their ankles out of shape in the vain endeavor to walk on heels like corks, fastened far into the middle of the sole of their boots; and those boots so high upon the calf of the leg, and buttoned across it so tightly that circulation is stopped, and violent headaches follow. Wives and mothers! I say, as I see the heating and burdensome panier tackled on the most delicate portion of a woman's frame, to make still surer confirmed invalidism. What fathers, husbonds, brothers and lovers can be thinking about, to be willing that the women they respect and love, should appear in public, looking like women whom they despise, is a marvel to me. Why they do not say this to them, and shame them into a decent appearance, if their glasses cannot effect it, I do not know. Oh, the relief it is to meet a lady, instead of a ballet girl! Oh, the relief it is to see a healthy, firm-stepping, rosy, broad-chested, bright-eyed woman, clad simply with a dress all of one color, and free from bunches and tags! I turn to look at such an one with true respect, that she has the good sense and courage and good taste to appear on the street in a dress befitting the street; leaving to those poor wretched women whose business it is to advertise their persons a free field without competition. If I seem to speak harshly, it is because I feel earnestly on this subject. I had hoped that the women of 1868 would have been worthy of the day in which they live. I had hoped that all their time would not have been spent in keeping up with the chameleon changes of fashions too ugly, too absurd for toleration. It is because I want them to be something, to do something higher and nobler than a peacock might aim at, that I turn heart-sick away from these infinitesimal fripperies that narrow the soul and purse, and leave nothing in their wake but emptiness. Nor is it necessary, in avoiding all this, that a woman should look "strong minded," as the bugbear phrase goes. It is not necessary that she should dress like her grandmother in order to look like a decent woman. It is not necessary she should forswear ornamentation, because it were better and more respectable to have it confined to festal and home occsions and less to the public promenade. She is not driven to the alternative of muffling herself like an omnibus driver in January, or catching consumption with her throat protected only by a gold locket.

Oh, I wish that a bevy of young handsome girls, of good social position, would inaugerate a plain lady-like costume for street and church wear. I say young and handsome, because if an old woman does this, the little chits will toss their heads and say, "Oh, she has had her day and don't care now—and we want ours."

Now that's perfectly natural, and right, too, that you should have your youth; that you should as girls say, "make the most of yourselves;" but in doing so don't you think it would be well not to lessen or cheapen yourselves? and I submit, with all deference to your dressmakers and mammas, that every one of you who appear in public in the manner I have described, are doing this very thing—are defiling womanhood, and bringing it into derision and contempt, whether you believe it or not.

Application of Petroleum to the Heating of Boilers.

It is under the superintendence of H. M. Saint Claire Deville that complete investigations have been made with a view of arriving at the means of burning, under suitable conditions, rough petroleum in the fire-grates of steam boilers. For some years past the English and the Americans have devoted themselves to the consideration of the subject, but without seeming to have arrived at any definite conclusions. Numerous trials in France, however, have led to the decided result, and a first effective application thereof was made in the beginning of June last, in the grates of the boat Puebla.

Not many days have elapsed since the Imperial train was drawn from Chalons to the camp, over a distance of twenty-eight kilometres, by a locomotive heated with petroleum oil, and this trial was a success. In heating with oil of petroleum, employment is made, not of the rectified oil adopted for trade, but of oil dull, almost stationary, viscous as tar, and in this state not presenting any danger of explosion. The mode employed on the Eastern Railway consists in burning the petroleum on a noggin placed behind a simple vertical grating. A constant current, the playing out of which is regulated by a cock, comes to supply aliment for the combustion, and consequently allows the regulation of the production of steam. Whether this trial will be followed by other applications, and whether petroleum will enter as an available agency of combustion into the actual practical workings of steam engines, are questions which the future will decide.

HOW AN ALDERMAN SHOULD LOOK.—He should be bald-headed, round-headed, and empty-headed; should be about five feet six lengthwise, half as much in breadth, and as deep as the city fat can make him; small eyes that seem to look at the ceiling, between which should be a nasal organ that looks like a wad of putty stuck on the side of a pumpkin; should wear glasses on the top of his head, and leather over his eyes; should feel the importance of the position, and what small potatoes the people are; then, if anything else is wanting, it should be a pair of bellows to force breathing, and the model is complete. If the Mayor should happen to have a little bill to be passed, the model Alderman is the man to offer it, feeling his importance increase at such times in a two fold ratio, and is but too happy to be so honored, and under his guardianship the city improves. Yes, in course.—Quincy (Ill.) Whig.

The Assassin Booth.

Mr. James E. Murdoch gave his "Recollections of Lincoln" at the Masonic Hall, in Cincinnati, on Tuesday evening, and in the course of his remarks spoke of Wilkes Booth as follows:

No just, dispassionate man could claim that Booth was acting from a mistaken patriotism when he committed the hideous deed. It was a groveling personal ambition that prompted the assassin to his damnable work. Excited by love of notoriety and applause, Booth flung himself into the arms of a few murderous conspirators, and with them hatched the plot for assassinating the President. Mr. Murdoch remembered that on one occasion, when Booth was cast for the character of Charles de Moore, in Schiller's tragedy of "The Robbers," he wanted the stage carpenter so to arrange the scenes that at a certain time in the progress of the play he would hurl himself down a precipice from a great height. They expostulated with him against the arrangement, but he insisted on having his plan carried out, saying that no matter whether he was killed or not by the fall, the jump would be sensational, and would "bring down the house." So it was with the last desperatce and terrible act of his life. A band of rebels, knowing that he was ambitious to do something tragic for the cause that was fast losing its strength, encouraged him in his idle plans and gave him an ostensible leadership of their party only to fire his excited brain with their hellish plot for the murder of Mr. Lincoln. The mantle of Junius Brutus Booth the elder did not fall upon the shoulders of John Wilkes, and the consciousness of that fact rankled in Booth's heart, though it did not ruffle his handsome brow. The tool in the hands of his designing companions, he was made to believe that the fame he coveted was to be gained only by performing the last bloody act of that long and disastrous tragedy. The impenitent ones South wanted a man to strike the final blow, and they would lift him on their shoulders and give him the first place in the new nation they thought to rear when anarchy and bloodshed had destroyed the old. A weak and miserable ambition led Booth to the terrible crime of murdering in cold blood the nation's best benefactor, and, in firing that fatal shot, he brought upon himself all the abhorrence that the American people can feel. He perished, as he deserved to perish, like a dog, and his name will ever henceforth be detested by all men.

Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all in good bearing condition. Mr. Fred. Fries' hair-dressing and gents barber shop, No. 120 Smithfield street, is one of the best conducted in the city. His corps of assistants Messrs. Andy Eissler, Cooney Gering, George Vollman and Tom Leonard are all adepts in their art, and can handle the razor, scissor, brush, sponge and comb, with admirable dexterity and precision. Gentlemen will find no cleaner or more convenient shaving saloon in the city, and as Mr. Fries is courteous and obliging, he is eminently deserving of large patronage.

Gun Thief.—Yesterday morning about eight o'clock a man was noticed lounging in the neighborhood of the stable on the premises of Rev. John Kerr, at Wood's Run. A short time afterward a valuable rifle was missed from its accustomed place in the stable, and as the lounger was seen running along the railroad toward Allegheny city, it is supposed that he obtained possession of the article during the temporary absence of the hostler from the premises. The police have been notified but thus far have not succeeded in arresting the thief.

Child Severely Burned.—A little colored girl named Coleman, residing at Mansfield, was very badly burned at her father's house on Tuesday afternoon, by the upsetting of a kerosene lamp, the oil from which saturated her clothing and caused it to take fire while she was standing by the stove. She was in one of the upper rooms of the house at the time, and her screams attracted her father to the spot, who succeeded, after some difficulty, in quenching the flames, not however before her breast, arms and face were severely burned. Dr. Walters was summoned and all the aid possible given. At last accounts the little sufferer was in a fair way of recovery.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Vice President elect, and his bride, who were married yesterday at Andover, Ohio, reached the city last evening, en route for Washington City. The bridal party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Matthews, step-father and mother of the bride, Miss Matthews, and Mr. W. D. Todd. After taking supper at the Union Depot Hotel, the happy party left by the 7:30 P.M. train, in a splendid new car, No. 120, just built for the use of President J. Edgar Thompson. The movements of the distinguished party were kept so quiet that but few were aware of their arrival and departure. Mrs. Colfax is a lady of dignified mien, beautiful, and the very picture of health and simplicity of manners.

A Dangerous Crown.

Officer James Blondin, of Alderman McMaster's police, endeavored yesterday to make a levy on the goods and chattels in the clothing store of Isaac Crown, on Liberty street, but the irate Crown refused to let him proceed in the discharge of his official duty, thrust him out of the store, and threatened to break his head if he came back again. The officer made information against his assailant before Alderman McMasters for interference with him in the discharge of his duty and for surety of the peace. Crown was arrested, and gave bail for a hearing in both cases.

THE LANE POISONING CASE.

Decision in the Supreme Court—Sentence Reversed and Venire Denovo Awarded—Opinions of Chief Justice Thompson.

The case of Lewis Lane, convicted of murder in the first degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Allegheny county, it will be remembered, was carried to the Supreme Court by Mr. Haines, counsel for the prisoner, on a writ of error. The case was argued several days since, and yesterday the opinion of the Court was delivered by Thompson, C. J., by which the sentence is reversed and a venire denovo awarded. The ruling will be of but little consequence to the prisoner, further than to give him a little longer lease on life, as it is merely a decision upon a technicality, which in all probability had no influence upon the jury by whom he was tried. He will probably be tried at the next term of Court.

As the opinion is an important one, we publish it in full:

LEWIS LANE VS. COMMONWEALTH.

Error to the Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny county.

Opinion of the Court

By THOMPSON, C. J.—The prisoner, Lewis Lane, was charged and tried at the June term of the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny county for the murder of his wife by administering poison to her, and the question now for consideration is, whether the Court below erred in the portions of the charge to the jury, excepted to and assigned for error, which are as follows:

"The life or death of this man is in your hands; there is no middle course; he must be convicted of murder in the first degree or acquitted of everything."

"If your verdict is guilty of murder you must state of the first degree; if not guilty, you say so, and no more."

The objection to these portions of the charge that they were peremptory and took from the jury their exclusive right and duty to find the degree in case of a conviction for murder. It was contended, on argument, that in all trials for murder, by whatever means perpetrated, it is always the province and duty of the jury if they convict, to find in the verdict the degree, and that this being the requirement of the statute, a binding instruction from the Court, to find a particular degree is an infringement of the duty intrusted alone to the jury and not to the Court.

The seventy-fourth section of the act of the 31st of March, 1860, which is a transcript of the provision on the same subject of the act of the 27th of April, 1794, enacts that, "All murders which shall be perpetrated by means of poison, or by lying in wait, or by any other kind of willful, deliberate and premeditated killing, or which shall be committed in the perpetration of, or the attempt to perpetrate, any arson, rape, robbery, or burglary, shall be deemed murder of the first degree, and all other kinds of murder shall be deemed murder of the second degree, and the jury before whom any person shall be tried shall, if they find said person guilty thereof, ascertain in their verdict whether it be murder of the first or second degree."

It must be admitted, we think, that the act makes no distinction as to the requirement, to find the degree of murder, between any of the modes by which it may be perpetrated, as defined in the statute. In all alike, the requirement applies, without any exception, even in case of a confession of the crime, and submission to the Court, no matter by what means it may have been perpetrated, whether by poison, lying in wait, or in an attempt to commit either of the enumerated crimes, in which intention to kill is not a material inquiry, the Court must, before sentencing, examine witnesses and determine the degree. The law is imperative, and it is indispensable, in the trial of a homicide, that the degree of the crime be ascertained and appear on the record. This is to be done by the jury when there is a trial, and by the Court when there is a sentence on a confession. It is as essential in the element of the verdict as any other facts to be found by it. It is this which ascertains and fixes the penalty to be attached to the crime, and hence it must appear by the record.

Tilghman, C. J., in White vs. the Commonwealth, speaking of the form of indictment under the act of the 27th of April, 1794, said "It has not been the practice since the passage of this law to alter the form of indictments for murder in any respect, and it plainly appears by the act itself that it was not supposed any alteration would be made. It seems to be taken for granted that it would not always appear on the face of the indictment of what degree the murder was, because the jury are to ascertain the degree by their verdict; or in case of confession, the Court are to ascertain it by examination of witnesses." Notwithstanding what the Chief Justice said, indictments continue to be generally framed according to common law precedents in which was always set forth the kind of indictment and the means of the killing. Since the passage of the criminal procedure act of 31st March, 1860, section 20, it is not necessary that the "manner or the means by which the death of the deceased was caused" should be set forth, but only that it was done "feloniously, wilfully and with malice aforethought;" hence it would seem to be more than ever material that the jury be charged with the responsibility and duty of fixing the degree. That it is a material fact to be found, is not to be denied or doubted. The statute makes it so, and with it all our decisions accord.

But it is argued that when the facts bring the case within either of the modes of killing declared murder in the first degree, it being the duty of the jury to find a verdict in accordance therewith, a peremptory direction to find that degree is proper and right. To admit this would be to determine that this portion of the verdict is a matter of form, and to substitute a Court to do that which the law declares the jury shall upon their oaths do. They have undoubtedly the power to fix a lower degree to the crime than the statute provides. I say they have the power, for the act gives it to them, and no Court can refuse their verdict if they do so, or set it aside unless at the instance of the defendant. We need not speculate about why it was so provided. It is sufficient that it is so written, and we cannot change, alter or depart from it. In Rhodes vs. Com., 12 Wright 396, this was a subject of thought and comment. Woodward, C. J., said in the opinion of the Court, "no doubt, cases of murder in the first degree, had been found in the second; but this must have been anticipated when the statute was framed, and has certainly been allowed under its operations; and yet it has remained on the statute book since 1794 unaltered in this regard. Possibly the very distinction of degrees was invented to relieve such jurymen's consciences as should be found more tender on the subject of capital punishment than on their proper duties under the evidence. Many men have been convicted of murder in the second degree who, really guilty of the higher crime, would have escaped punishment altogether, but for the distinction in degrees, so carefully committed to juries by the statute."

For myself, I have no doubt the object of establishing degrees was to affix to the more heinous murders, the highest penalty, but as this penalty results from the degree, the responsibility and duty of fixing that was assigned to the deliberations of the jury. We need not speculate about the moving cause for this provision; it is enough that it is the law, and its workings have been but little complained of, after an experience of three-quarters of a century. We must administer it as it is, and in the spirit of the enactment, without altering or weakening it.

In Rhodes vs. Commonwealth, the theory of the prosecution was that the murder was committed by the prisoner in perpetrating the crime of robbery, for the prosecutor's house was robbed that day. The effect was to identify him with the robbery and the prosecution claimed a conviction so exclusively on that ground that the Judge in his charge to the jury used almost the same language, which the learned Judge did in this case. The language was: "If you find the defendant guilty your verdict must state guilty of murder in the first degree, in the manner and form as he stands indicted. If not guilty your verdict will simply be not guilty." The same reason was urged in justification of instruction as was urged here, viz.: That the evidence exhibited a case of robbery by the hands of the prisoner, and therefore it must be murder in the first degree if it was anything. For so instructing, this Court felt constrained to reverse the sentence. Woodward, C. J., after noticing the change made by the statute in the common law, in respect to degrees in murder, and the duty of the jury under the statute to find the degree, said: "Yet the judge assumed the province of the jury and ascertained the degree in this instance, though this was a case of conviction by trial and not by confession. Nothing less can be made out of his words: "If you find the defendant guilty "your verdict must state guilty of murder in the first degree." "Was this," he asks, "leaving the degree to the jury to find?" Most clearly not. It excluded all chances of deliberation as to the degree, and left to them only the question, guilty or not guilty." "It is in vain to argue," he further remarks, "that the Judge was more competent to fix the degree than the jury, or that the circumstances proved the crime to be murder in the first degree, if murder at all; for the statute is imperative that commits the degree to the jury. It is proper for the Judge to advice them of the distinction between the degrees to apply the evidence, and to instruct them to which of these degrees it pointed, but to tell them they must find the first degree, was to withdraw the point from the jury and decide it himself."

It remains to inquire in this case whether the charge was meant to be peremptory that the verdict must be murder in the first degree if anything. I will not analyze the charge to prove that this was meant; for in all its parts, wherever conviction is spoken of, as possible, this is indicated almost as clearly as in the last paragraph. We have also the learned Judge's interpretation of this as the position assumed by him in his opinion on the motion for a new trial. The authorities he cites are to prove this position, and in the concluding portion of it he says, after reviewing the facts and the absence of evidence to mitigate the crime from wilful, intentional poisoning, he adds: "If such is the case, we were right, and it was our duty to tell the jury that they could not, under the law and evidence in the case, render a verdict of murder in the second degree."

The charge being intended to be peremptory, as claimed by the prisoner's counsel, and thus shown, we think it impinged too strongly on the provisions of the jury; it did not leave them free to deliberate and fix the degree. The Judge did, as was said in the case above referred to, decide it, and not the jury. If a verdict of murder in the second degree had been rendered, it would have been a great error to have refused it; and yet this would be the legitimate consequence of a failure to observe the peremptory direction of the Judge. It has never yet been decided in Pennsylvania that a verdict of murder in the second degree might not be given in a case of murder by poison. That it may be given is as unquestionable as the power of the jury is under the act to give it, and impossible for the Court to refuse it. We have no reference to the facts of the case in hand as they appeared before the jury. We know nothing of them. It is only with the questions of law raised that we have to deal, and only in the particulars discussed do we see anything to be found fault with. Nor are we to be understood as finding fault with a practice, which is entirely proper, of Judges freely advising juries as to the duty of ascertaining the degree of murder towards which the facts may seem to point, always leaving them, however, free to deliberate upon and the duty and responsibility of finding the degree, if they convict of murder.

For these reasons, the sentence in this case is reversed, and a venire denovo is awarded.

Felonious Assault.

Yesterday morning, about nine o'clock, Rudolph McMurtrie, from Huntingdon, made a felonious assault upon Samuel H. Rial, proprietor of the Merchants' Hotel. At the time stated, Mr. Rial observed McMurtrie, who was considerably intoxicated, sitting in one of his parlors asleep, and on ascertaining that he was not a guest, he went to him, woke him and requested him to go out. McMurtrie refused to go, whereupon Mr. R. took hold of him and put him out of the house. He then entered and closed the door, leaving McMurtrie on the outside, and had got but a few feet from the door when he was followed by McM., who opened the door and leveled a pistol at him, and was in the act of firing when one of the porters struck his arm, knocking it upward, when the pistol was discharged, the ball entering the ceiling over Mr. R.'s head. He cocked the pistol a second time, and was about to fire, when Mr. Rial seized him and took the weapon from him. An officer was called and McMurtrie taken to the Mayor's office. Mr. Rial followed, and made an information charging him with felonious assault. The case was brought before Alderman Strain for a hearing, when the accused was held to bail for his appearance at Court in the sum of $1,500. The prosecution was, however, withdrawn and the accused discharged. By what authority cases of this character are settled, without investigation, we are unable to say. The prosecutor, who is merely a witness on the part of the Commonwealth, has no right or power to stop proceedings. It is stated that the matter was settled by consent of the District Attorney, which simply amounts to nothing, as he has no more control over criminal cases, so far as compounding or compromising them is concerned, than any other attorney, without first obtaining the permission of the Court.

Collision on the Panhandle Railroad.

On Tuesday evening shortly before twelve o'clock, as the local freight train No. 19 was coming east, on the Panhandle Railroad, the two rear cars became detached from the remainder and stopped on the track a short distance this side of Cork's Run. The fact was discovered by the watchman, who signaled the train to return for them. Meanwhile a brakeman was directed to run back and signal the "mixed train," which had been following the "local" at some distance behind. Before the man reached the curve, however, he fell into a sluiceway, by which his signal light was extinguished. Another brakesman started in his place, but was too late to prevent a collision. The engineer of the advancing train, as soon as he perceived the obstruction, reversed his engine and whistled down brakes, but the momentum could not be checked, and the engine ran into the cars, partially wrecking them both. There were several drovers, having stock on the local train, who were in the wrecked cars at the time of the collision. One of them, Mr. Charles Campbell, of Burgettstown, was badly scalded by the steam from the reversed engine, and also suffered from a severe sprain of his right leg. He was taken into a house close at hand and received proper attention. Mr. Wm. C. Campbell, of Midway, Pa., was badly scalded about the head and face, and on other parts of his body, but was not disabled. Mr. A. G. McPherson, another drover, was slightly scalded and bruised, but suffered no serious injury. None of the cars were thrown off the track, and the running of the regular trains was but slightly interfered with.

Birmingham Jubilee.

The Republicans of Birmingham held a grand jubilee in honor of the election of Grant and Colfax at Eichelay's Hall, Denman street, Tuesday evening. The affair partook more of the nature of a reunion of friends of both political parties, as both were largely represented and the best of good feeling prevailed. A magnificent banquet had been prepared by Mr. Eichelay and the tables which extended the full length of his spacious dining hall were loaded with both the substantials and delicacies of the season. The guests assembled at an early hour, and when supper was announced but a few moments elapsed until the seats were all filled and the most perfect order prvailed. The supper was discussed with a relish, which evinced the high appreciation in which Mr. Eichelay is held by his numerous friends on such occasions.

Supper over, the cloth was removed and on motion of Mr. Charles Edmunds, D. C. Ripley, Esq., was called to the chair; on motion of Dr. Wolf, Messrs. August Ammon, John Phillips and John Nusser were chosen Vice Presidents, and on motion, E. G. Krehan and John P. Beech were elected Secretaries.

Capt. Sam. Barr, August Ammon and D. A. Jones were appointed a Committee on Toasts, and reported as follows:

First—Our next President, GRANT, "First in war, first in Peace, and will be first in the hearts of his countrymen."

This was responded to by John Able Jones, with his Grant Glee Club, by singing "Grant's what's the matter," in most excellent style,

Second—Our next Vice President, COLFAX the pioneer of universal freedom.

August Ammon responded to this sentiment in his usual able and happy style, and said among other remarks, that for the first time in the history of the Union, the preamble of the Declaration of Independence would be realized in the next administration of the country.

Third—The Union of States, preserved by the bullet; secured by the ballot. Responded to by D. C. Riply, Esq.

Fourth—Liberty to mankind; Manhood Suffrage; all men free, and equal before the law. Responded to by Charles Markman.

Fifth—The Army and Navy, our pride and glory. Responded to by Maj. Foley.

Sixth—The Union defenders, let us revere the memory of those who fell and sustain the maimed. Responded to by D. A. Jones, and toasts drank in silence, the whole company rising to their feet.

Seventh—The Soldiers' widows and orphans, the faith of the Nation is pledged for their support and education. Justice Salisbury responded to the foregoing in a most eloquent and appropriate manner, See[ing] more in the result of the Election than he was disposed to take for Grant[ed.

Eighth—The working men, the bone and sinew of our country; they proved themselves true in voting with the party of progress, and turning a deaf ear to demagogues. Responded to by A. Patterson, who acknowledged active interest in the October election, Bu(r)t confessed to non action in the Presidential contest, the last clause of the toast he believed to be a missapprehension. He spoke of Gen. Negley in high eulogistic terms, but in a vein, which A. W., would have termed, "Sarkawsm."

Ninth—Woman—made after the image of man, with ——. Responded to by Justice Lipp.

The regular toasts having all been read, the following sentiments were volunteered:

By Haines—The Republican Executive Committee of Birmingham—All honor to them for their indefatigable and unceasing endeavors to accomplish their object. The party owes them a debt of gratitude and will ever remember their valuable services. This brought H. Meisterfeld, Esq, to his feet, when he gracefully acknowledged the compliment paid to the Committee.

Birmingham—True to the colors of the Union in October and November. May she be equally true to her servants in the coming spring election.

East Birmingham—Ever true and sound in the right cause.—Ahmen.

The Press—May its influence spread until every son and daughter of Adam's fallen race, from the northern to the southern pole, be able to read and have the pleasure of reading the news of the day. Responded to by the modest man of the evening, representing the GAZETTE.

Our Democratic Brethren—Responed to by Major Patterson. He embraced the opportunity to reply to toast nine.

By Prof. M.—Out of the danger of War, having plucked the flower of safety, let us enjoy its fragrance by cultivating peace, friendship, and the political and civil equality of man, which is the only solid basis of true peace. Responded to by Justices Heisel and Salisbury.

Our Host and Hostess. Responded to by Mr. Eichelay.

A number of other toasts were offered, which the want of space alone prevents us from publishing, after which Mr. George S. Wood and D. A. Jones sang the "Star Spangled Banner," and the meeting then adjourned.

The meeting was one of the most enjoyable occasions of its character ever occurring on the South Side, and will long be remembered by all whose privilege it was to participate in it as one of the green spots in their lives.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—A large and fashionable audience attended the Opera House last night. "Sam" is still on the boards, and will continue during the present week. It is a very amusing comedy, and is the exclusive property of Chanfrau, and we know of no one who can make more out of it.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Monday night the Old Drury will be re-opened under a new management, with Miss Kate Fisher in "Mazeppa." An excellent company has been engaged, and the house has been renovated, repapered, repainted and refitted throughout, and withal, promises to be one of the best places of amusement in the city.

VARIETIES.—Miss Annie Hindle, the celebrated vocalist, is drawing full houses at the Varieties Theatre. The company at this establishment is a most excellent one, and the entertainments are all that the fun-loving community could desire.

MARK TWAIN.—A good hearty laugh is one of the most healthful exercises, and one which should be indulged in at every opportunity, an opinion which, we think, is coincided in pretty extensively in this vicinity, judging from the rapidity with which the seats for Mark Twain's lecture, which takes place this evening, are being taken. If the rush continues, there will hardly be standing room in the Academy of Music to-night, and we would therefore advise all our readers who have not yet secured seats to do so without delay, by calling at the corner of Penn and Sixth street Library.

SHAKSPERIAN READINGS.—The first of the Shaksperian Readings of Mrs. Fannie Kemble will take place at Lafayette Hall this evening. So much has already been written and printed in commendation of these entertainments that it is altogether a work of superorogation to say anything further, and we have no doubt but that the mere announcement of the reading will be sufficient to fill the house with an intelligent and appreciative audience. "Julius Ceasar," the selection for this evening, will give ample scope for her powers, and is one in which she is said to excel. Secured seats may be obtained at Mellor's Music Store, No. 81 Wood street.

THE MUSEUM.—Among the other attractions in our city at the present time, Burnell's Museum should not be forgotten. It is open day and evening, and offers an interesting and instructive entertainment, which should not be overlooked.

Steamed Oysters.—The only place in the city to get them is at the Broadway Exchange, corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.

Duff's Commercial College.

The winter session of this sterling old educational institute promises to be largely attended, scholars arriving daily from all parts of the country. No college in the United States, making a specialty of commercial training and mercantile education, stands higher than the prosperous one of our own city, and certainly none have furnished more active and intelligent business men. A large proportion of the merchants throughout our own and contigous States owe a full share of their success in life to the correct training received and thorough business knowledge acquired during terms of scholarship at Duff's College. It is a matter of much pride to the city that this institution strengthens itself with each returning year, and while becoming venerable, puts forth new energies and is more than ever capable of doing good. Young men who would work their way up to prominence, wealth and position in the business walks of life, should fortify themselves with the knowledge, confidence and ability which can only be acquired at such thoroughly organized educational institutes as Duff's College. It has our highest commendation, and those desiring to prepare themselves for any position in life can do so to no better advantage than by securing a scholarship there. In another column will be found an advertisement of the College to which we direct public attention.

The Allegheny Pig Question.

MESSRS. EDITORS: The enforcement of the ordinances of the city by its Chief Executive, should at all times meet with the sanction and endorsement of good citizens. The hog law now being so rigidly put into execution in this city is perhaps good and wise in its provisions, but the manner of enforcing it is not calculated to improve the morals of the young. If the police alone attended to the impounding of the animals, but little objection could be urged, but in countenancing boys to act as officers a premium is offered for the development of their rascality. Now, the writer knows of cases where boys have invaded private premises, torn away fences and burst open pens to steal away pigs and drive them to the Mayor's office, where they are rewarded for their wickedness by the lawful fee, sometimes getting all but more often sharing with policemen managing the business. This is not right, and I hope Mayor Drum will at once check the young rogues in their nefarious business, as, if they are now encouraged in theft, what will become of them when they grow older? As parents and good citizens the people of Allegheny have a right to demand the discontinuance of a system of enforcing an ordinance which makes thieves of their children. CITIZEN.

Ewalt Street Bridge.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Ewalt street Bridge Company was held last Tuesday afternoon at the office of Messrs. Sill and Shutterly, Lawrenceville. C. Seibert, Esq., was called to the chair and Mr. W. A. Shinn chosen Secretary. The Committee having the matter in charge reported that about $40,000 had been subscribed to the capital stock. Mr. C. Seibert was elected Treasurer pro tem, and Messrs. Seibert, Davison, McConnell, Williams and Shutterly appointed a Committee to procure plans and estimates, and ascertain the cost of the various kinds of wooden and iron bridges, This Committee will meet at the office of Messrs. Sill and Shutterly, on Saturday, 21st inst., at 4 P. M.

On motion, the Bridge Committee was instructed to employ Jno. W. Riddell, Esq., as Solicitor.

The meeting then adjourned.

The attendance of subscribers was very large, although no permanent organization was effected. It was stated that thus far there had been but very little effort used in soliciting subscriptions, and from the favorable consideration with which the enterprise is regarded by capitalists, no difficulty is anticipated in securing the full amount of capital stock as soon as required.

Passenger Railway Officers Elected.

On Monday evening the annual election of Directors of the Citizens' Passenger Railway Company took place at the Monongahela House, and resulted in the election of the following gentlemen: James Verner, James Wright, Alexander Speer, Richard Hays and J. B. Jones. James Verner, Esq., was elected President; D. D. Corwin, Esq., Secretary, and James H. Wright, Esq., Treasurer of the Company.

The election for officers of the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Passenger Railway Company, to serve for the ensuing year, was also held on the same evening at the Monongahela House, and resulted as follows: W. M. Hersh, W. K. Nimick, M. W. Beltzhoover, B. F. Jones and John McD. Crossan. W. M. Hersh, Esq., was elected President; W. K. Nimick, Esq., Secretary, and James H. Wright, Esq., Treasurer of the Company.

The People's Passenger Railway also held their annual election for Directors at the same time and place, when the old Board was re-elected, as follows: James Verner, James H. Wright, Alex. Speer, Richard Hays and J. H. Jones.

A busy man is a locomotive, and life a track. Every night he drives into "the house," and stops. Every morning he is fired up anew, and away he goes switching off in one direction and then in another. In this routine of business he forgets that the physical organization is of the most delicate kind. If a hard iron locomotive needs constant care, and to be well oiled up and rubbed off every day, how much more necessary is it that all men and women should use PLANTATION BITTERS, which are the ne plus ultra of everything which is necessary to keep the system in a perfect tone of health.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T-F.

Simple but Effectual—The entire freedom from all deleterious ingredients renders "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Cough and Voice Lozenges, a safe remedy for the delicate female, or youngest child, and has caused them to be held in the highest esteem by singers and public speakers generally. In Coughs, Irritation of the throat caused by cold, or unusual exertion of the vocal organs, speaking in public, or singing, they produce the most beneficial results.

Just the thing that was wanted in Pittsburgh, and will be a big thing for the Vierhellers, Broadway Exchange, corner of Fifth avanue and Smithfield streets, STEAMED OYSTERS, the only place in the city.

Deafness, Blindness, Catarrh,

And all affections of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver and Nervous System, treated successfully at Dr. Aborn's Medical and Surgical Institute, No. 134 Smithfield street. tf.

Asthma—Strong Evidence.—Such names as Dr. O. W. Holmes, Washington Irving and Ex-President Van Buren have borne testimony to the efficacy of Whitcomb's Asthma Remedy, which is for sale by druggists. TTST

Oh how delicious are the STEAMED OYSTERS served at the Broadway Exchange, opposite the Postoffice.

The place to get White Lime, Calcined Plaster, Hydraulic Cement, is at Ecker & Caskey's, 167 First street.

Vierheller's Broadway Exchange.—Stewed oysters—An oasis in the desert.

MONTREAL, November 18.—There are several inches snow on the ground and it is still falling heavily. The sleighing is good.
